intro:

Verse 1:

Im leaving you a place that we can go in summertime where you need to clear your soul and to be healed from the wounds that you got inside Im leaving you a place where we can hide when the sun comes up on the blue sky and your skin gets dry Dont leave me there so shy

Pre-chorus:

sun rays will light up even the darkest of days and no secrets can hide where did you go, I now see your disguise, you blushing why oh why when the light is out

Chorus:

And its a little bit wrong
But the sun burns if you stay there
Its a little bit wrong
But the sun burns you if you stay there too long inside the shadows of sunrays you You'll find the key that saves me too..

Post-chorus:

Ohhh x 4

Verse 2:

I'll take you to a place, you tread on waters
the others drifting by, i hear familiar sounds, now do you hear them.
the heart beats in your soul.
And i'm taking it all in,
every second i have,
Im leaving the sadder days they broke my heart and you said I know you deeper than that i knew you deeper before did you loose control
